

Even though we're paralyzed, we still stand up for America.

- For 61 years, Paralyzed Veterans of America and our local chapters have been fighting for all veterans, people with disabilities, and their families;
- We've helped to increase the life span – and the quality of life paralyzed veterans now enjoy – from zero to near normal, in just six decades;
- We helped lead the charge for the Americans with Disabilities Act, making our nation more accessible for everyone;
- We've fought for and secured more than $3 billion in benefits for our brave service members and veterans;
 - We've invested more than $50 million in research for a cure for paralysis.
 - We're the voice of paralyzed veterans in the White House, on Capitol Hill and throughout America; and,
 - We pioneered wheelchair sports and have presented (along with the VA) the National Veterans Wheelchair Games for the past 22 years, the largest annual wheelchair sports event in the world.
